Superintendent's Report

To the School Board and the Citizens of the School District of Clarksville:

Foreword

Most of what has been said and written during the past few years about the strong or weak points of our American education system has had to do with conditions in the country as a whole. This has been particularly true in the discussion of size of unit, of reading methods, science subject matter, and the teaching of the concept of number. The arguments presented have by no means been confined to either what should be taught or how it should be taught, as no small part of this running educational gamut has had to do with the individual on the receiving end — the pupil and what is considered to be the best time to try to persuade him to take it. And all this has taken place even though becoming increasingly more aware every day of the uncertainty of how to determine ability potentials, especially from the standpoint of what can or will be accomplished when once stimulated to action.

With both the prescribed minimum standards for high schools, which goes into effect this fall, and the Interim Commission's recommendations, which applies to both the elementary and high school, geared for larger educational units in the state, there is a definite pointing to the conviction that provision for offering more subjects in the above mentioned and other areas to a larger number will result in a better education. Whether or not this belief will be borne out, time only can tell. Past experience has shown that the spending of more dollars, which almost invariably has been the case in the end, to provide a large school to accommodate the pupils from several smaller ones has not necessarily produced superior accomplishments. Even after all the various factors have been considered and the problems of organization have been solved, time has been found to be vitally important in the working out of the many details of implementation.

Teachers

With the shortage of teachers, particularly elementary, if anything growing greater with the passing of each successive year, the district is extremely fortunate to have the same veteran teachers return. Grades 1-4 are taught by Mrs. Alma B. Chappell, and Grades 5-8 by Mrs. Kate Lord.

School Health — Nurse

With conclusive findings of scientific studies showing that, with other factors being equal, the efficiency with which school work is done by the pupil is directly proportional to his or her overall state of health, the importance of the outstanding work done by Mrs. Ethel S. Sturgis, our school nurse, becomes ever more apparent.

The comprehensive program conducted throughout the school year includes periodic clinics for the purpose of administering immunizations, giving physical examinations, and taking X-rays, in addition to constant check-ups on height, weight, hearing, and eyesight, and continuous supervision of the general health.

Building — Equipment

For the first time since the building was repaired after the fire several years ago, the ceilings and walls of the classrooms have been painted. With a fresh coat of white paint over the former, and light pastel colors painted over the latter surfaces, the attractive surroundings are enjoyed and appreciated by both pupils and teachers.

Reference was made under this caption in last year's report relative to a possible saving in fuel costs with the insulation provided by the new siding on the building and the installation of the aluminum windows. The smaller amount of fuel burned since that time, as compared to that used during corresponding periods previously, has borne out this belief. As will be noted, the saving realized is reflected in the budget, which, during the successive years can be quite substantial.

Although the present pupil chairs and desks have been kept repaired since they were refinished after the fire a number of years ago, several desk tops are cracked and the height of some chairs can no longer be adjusted. As will be found, a special article has been included in the warrant to consider the advisability of purchasing new units to replace this furniture, all of which now show the effect of use over a long period of time.

Enrollment and Attendance

The present small enrollment of 36 is the same as it was last year. For the four preceding years to last year it was 44, 42, 40, and 39 respectively. The average percentage of attendance during the past year was 97.33 for Grades 1-4, and 98.13 for Grades 5-8, while the average number of tardiness per pupil for the same groups taken in the same order was .00 and .01.

Nine pupils are enrolled in schools outside the district in comparison to 12, 9, 13, 9, and 11 respectively for each of the preceding five years. Of the present number of tuition pupils, seven are at Pittsburg High School, and two are at Colebrook Academy.

Notes on the Budget

The School Board's Budget for 1963-64 is $19,921.00 as compared to $21,289.00 for the current year. This amount is decreased by anticipated state aid of $700.00 plus an estimated balance of $1,300.00, which leaves a balance of $17,921.00 to be raised by taxes by the town in comparison to $19,589.00 for this year. Examination of the budget breakdown found on subsequent pages of this report will show that anticipated lower tuition costs, for the most part, explain the decrease in the budget.

Conclusion

May I again express my sincere appreciation to the members of the School Board, parents, teachers, and citizens for all the assistance and cooperation received as we have worked together during the past several years in a joint effort to provide and maintain high standards in our schools.

Respectfully submitted,
ERNEST B. DANA
Superintendent of Schools
